Gerrards Cross Conservation Volunteers Report 2008 – 2009

The Gerrards Cross Conservation Volunteers are into their 4th year of working on the Commons once a month and I am sure you will agree that their achievements are noticeable and praiseworthy. They have worked on footpaths, cut back the perennial holly and brambles, taken down dead trees and hanging branches, cleared undergrowth around seats and to create glades – quite apart from the eternal task of litter picking. A recent questionnaire on Commons maintenance completed by residents surrounding the Commons revealed that their wishes coincided with our work, so it seems that we are on the right track.

The Buckingham Federation initially gave us a donation to purchase tools for which we are most grateful. We are currently compiling a further list which we will submit to the Foundation, as we could use more and different tools.

We always welcome new volunteers to our friendly group of some 15 people, who meet on the third Saturday morning of each month when we are able. Tools and gloves are provided and refreshments are freely given. Please ring the Parish Office or Ann Mitchell (01753 882858) to let them know you can help.
